Course Materials:

Course Objectives:
The course endeavors to accomplish the following objectives:

• Explain how and why the world's countries differ.
• Present a thorough review of the economics and politics of international trade and investment.
• Explain the functions and forms of the global monetary system.
• Assess the special roles of an international business's various functions.

Methods of Teaching and Learning:
These will consist of textbook readings, case studies, discussion questions, practice quizzes, mid-term and final examinations. There will also be one term paper. Students are accountable for textual and other materials assigned by the professor.

Learning Outcomes:
After successful completion of the course, the student should be able to:

• Research and analyze International business concepts and trends.
• Examine a country’s economic, political, legal, social and cultural conditions and assess its business risks and opportunities.
• Explain the roles of International trade, investment and the global monetary system.
• Evaluate a global business scenario and determine best course of action.

Measurement of Learning Outcomes:
The learning outcomes of this course will be measured using multiple approaches. The examinations will measure the precise and clear understanding of the concepts, principles and theories. Case studies and Term Paper will measure the student's ability to analyze, write and present in a professional fashion. Research papers and/or cases will be a measure of the student's oral and written communications ability to organize and present information logically and express critical thought.
Assignments and Weight:
We will have three online exams (two midterms and one final), case studies, one term paper, and weekly discussion questions. Your grade will be calculated as follows:

Written Assignments:
Written assignments include a term paper, discussion questions and extra credit (optional). Except for the discussion questions, students are expected to provide their assignments and papers in typewritten essay form, using 12-point size and Times New Roman font. The papers must have a 1-inch margin left and right, top and bottom. All assignments must be turned in via Catalyst in the provided drop box. I will not accept assignments via email due to potential loss of emails. No late assignments will be accepted.

Participation:
Students are expected to participate in weekly discussion questions. Class participation is mandatory and everyone should have the opportunity to share his or her opinion. Online participation is important to the learning process for everyone, which is why attendance and participation constitute to your final grade. Students who do not participate in any week’s discussion questions may be dropped from the class without notice.

Assignment Due Dates:
All assignments are due during the week in which they are posted. Make sure to plan your schedule accordingly since makeup exams and discussion questions are not possible. Since this is a summer session, no late assignments will be accepted, absolutely no exceptions!
- Discussion question posts are due on Thursday of each week, and replies are due by Sunday.
- Exams open on Wednesday and close on Friday.
- The final exam opens on Monday and closes on Wednesday of the final week.
- The country paper is due on Friday of week 5.

Student Responsibility:
Each student is responsible for completing all assignments and attending class. I may make changes to this syllabus or the reading list during the semester. It is the student's responsibility to stay informed of these changes. Students may contact me during office hours or via email.
Information Technology:
You will need to have access to the Internet in order to complete all of the assignments for this class. Additionally, all of the assignments will need to be submitted via Catalyst. If you do not have access to a computer please be aware that there are computer labs on campus available for students at De Anza.

Academic Dishonesty:
Plagiarism in any form will not be tolerated. Plagiarism is the un-credited use (both intentional and unintentional) of somebody else's words or ideas. If I discover that any student has engaged in plagiarism I reserve the right to issue that student a failing grade in the class. Please refer De Anza policy on academic dishonesty.

Cheating Policy:
Most students do not get involved in cheating so make certain you are in that category. All work must be original and not a copy of another's work or another's test answers. Written assignments must be original, with references used clearly identified. I read all papers so I will pick up on copies of previous works. Make certain everything you submit is your very own work and represents your individual thoughts and conclusions. This will enhance your overall learning of the subject matters that we cover. Thanks for you attention to this matter.
